Report

Today on 24-03-2024 an online interactive programme to celebrate the Earth Hour 2024, on the theme “Uniting For Our One Shared Home”, was organized by the Department of Environmental Science in Collaboration with Eco Club to inculcate awareness and to encourage students in environmental friendly and sustainable practices to safeguard the earth and its life sustaining processes .

The session was initiated by Prof. Zameer Mumtaz HoD, Environmental Sciences with general gist of Earth Hour, its history, objectives and reception of the idea of Earth Hour around globe and also urged the participant students to adopt sustainable lifestyle to conserve energy. Participant students were informed to organise Earth Hour events in the future at their homes, institutions and also carry the message to outside community by turning off lights and non essential electrical appliances. To engage the students actively in the session a question answer session was also held, where participants got the opportunity to share their ideas and information.

Dr. Hina Mushtaq Asstt. Professor Environment science concluded the event with valuable insights and vote thanks.
